

RENOVATIONS FACTSHEET

RENOVATIONS TO A LOT

When proposing to undertake renovations to a lot, the lot owners should review the existing registered strata plan's by-laws, this factsheet and we suggest you complete the accompanying application form and checklist. Upon completion, please submit the application form and checklist, along with any supporting documentation, to the owners corporation, care of Bright & Duggan Pty Ltd. This will allow us to communicate your plans to the owners corporation in an attempt to gain their approval.

THE LOT

In most strata schemes, the lot owner owns the inside of the unit but not the main structure of the building. Usually the four main walls, ceiling, roof and floor are common property. The internal walls within the lot (e.g. the wall between the kitchen and lounge room), floor coverings such as carpet and fixtures such as baths, toilet bowls and bench tops are all the property of the lot owner.

It is also important to note that while non-load bearing internal walls are not defined as common property, a Council Development Application may still be required where you are changing the dimensions of any room. The Council Development Application requires approval by the owners corporation.

AIRSPACE

A lot owner effectively owns the airspace (and anything included in the airspace) inside the boundary walls, floor and ceiling of the lot. Lot airspace may include balconies and courtyards. Everything within the airspace must be maintained at the owner's cost.

AREAS OF COMMON PROPERTY

The following is a checklist for common property:

- floor includes a ramp or stairway;
- wall includes any door, window or other structure within the wall and their working parts;
- ceramic tiles originally attached to a common property surface (e.g. the floor or boundary wall);
- pipes in the common property or servicing more than one lot (ducting panels);
- electrical wiring in the common property or servicing more than one lot;
- parquet and floor boards originally installed;
- vermiculite ceilings, plaster ceilings and cornices;
- magnesite finish on the floor;
- balcony doors are usually common property if the strata plan was registered after 1 July 1974;
- load bearing columns or walls;
- the slab dividing two storeys of the same lot, or one storey from an open space roof or garden areas of the lot (e.g. a townhouse or villa), is usually common property if the strata plan was registered after 1 July 1974, unless the registered strata plan says it is not.

ALTERATIONS TO COMMON PROPERTY

Section 108 of the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015 (NSW) requires a special resolution to first be passed before an owner of a lot, can add to, alter or erect a new structure on the common property. If the resolution passes on the obligation to repair and maintain the affected common property to the lot owner a by-law is required to be made to that effect with the lot owner's written consent.

COSMETIC WORK

Cosmetic work under section 109 requires no approval from the owners corporation and includes, but is not limited to, work for the following purposes:

- (a) installing or replacing hooks, nails or screws for hanging paintings and other things on walls;
- (b) installing or replacing handrails;
- (c) painting;
- (d) filling minor holes and cracks in internal walls;
- (e) laying carpet;
- (f) installing or replacing built-in wardrobes;
- (g) installing or replacing internal blinds and curtains; and

RENOVATIONS FACTSHEET

(h) any other work prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this subsection.

Cosmetic work excludes:

- (a) work that consists of minor renovations for the purposes of section 110;
- (b) work involving structural changes;
- (c) work that changes the external appearance of a lot, including the installation of an external access ramp;
- (d) work that detrimentally affects the safety of a lot or common property, including fire safety systems;
- (e) work involving waterproofing or the plumbing or exhaust system of a building in a strata scheme;
- (f) work involving reconfiguring walls;
- (g) work for which consent or another approval is required under any other Act; and
- (h) any other work prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this subsection.

MINOR RENOVATIONS

Under section 110 minor renovations may be carried out with the approval of an ordinary resolution at general meeting and include, but are not limited to, work for the purposes of the following:

- (a) renovating a kitchen;
- (b) changing recessed light fittings;
- (c) installing or replacing wood or other hard floors;
- (d) installing or replacing wiring or cabling or power or access points;
- (e) work involving reconfiguring walls;
- (f) removing carpet or other soft floor coverings to expose underlying wooden or other hard floors;
- (g) installing a rainwater tank;
- (h) installing a clothesline;
- (i) installing a reverse cycle split system air conditioner;
- (j) installing double or triple glazed windows;
- (k) installing a heat pump;
- (l) installing ceiling insulation; and
- (m) any other work prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this subsection.

Minor renovations exclude:

- (a) work that consists of cosmetic work for the purposes of section 109;
- (b) work involving structural changes;
- (c) work that changes the external appearance of a lot, including the installation of an external access ramp;
- (d) work involving waterproofing;
- (e) work for which consent, or another approval is required under any other Act;
- (f) work that is authorised by a by-law made under this Part or a common property rights by-law; and
- (g) any other work prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this subsection.

Note: Applicants should confirm whether a general minor renovations by-law has been adopted by the owners corporation.

CLARIFICATION OF COMMON PROPERTY

The registered strata plan defines the boundaries between common property and lots in a strata scheme. If you wish to clarify any areas of common property for your strata scheme, please contact Bright & Duggan for further information.

EXCLUSIVE USE BY-LAW

If the alterations affect common property, and the obligation to repair and maintain the affected common property is to be passed to the lot owner, an exclusive use by-law must be drafted (preferably by the lot owner's solicitor). The solicitor will be aware of what terms and conditions the exclusive use by-law will need to contain with consideration to issues such as:

- That the work be performed by a licensed tradesperson. The lot owner should provide necessary details so that a licence check can be made.
- That the tradesperson is adequately insured and inclusive of public liability.
- That the lot owner is specifically documented as being responsible for the repair, maintenance and/or replacement of any 'works' and that this responsibility passes to any subsequent lot owner.
- That the lot owner is responsible for rectification of any damage to common property.
- That the work will be performed whilst creating minimal disturbance to other residents and avoiding damage to common property. For example:

RENOVATIONS FACTSHEET

- ❖ Transportation of all construction materials, equipment, debris and other material will be managed in a manner reasonably directed by the owners corporation.
- ❖ All areas of the building outside of the lot will be protected from damage by the works or by the transportation of construction materials, equipment and debris in a manner reasonably acceptable to the owners corporation.
- ❖ All areas of the building outside of the lot will be kept clean and tidy throughout the performance of the works.
- ❖ The works will be performed during times approved by the owners corporation.
- ❖ The works will not create any noise that causes discomfort, disturbance or interference with activities of any other resident of the building.
- ❖ Debris will be removed immediately from the building during the works.
- ❖ The lot owner will comply with the requirements of the owners corporation to comply with any by-laws and any relevant statutory authority concerning the performance of the works.

Where an exclusive use by-law is required, plans, quotes, engineer reports, the proposed by-law and other supporting documentation must be presented to the owners corporation along with the lot owner's written consent confirming that should the by-law be passed at the meeting by special resolution, that it can be registered at the Land and Property Information (LPI) Division of the Department of Lands (refer to Sections 141, 142, 143, 144 and 145 of the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015 (NSW)).

SPECIAL RESOLUTION

Following receipt of the documentation, the strata committee should request the secretary to add the motion for discussion at the next annual general meeting. However, if the lot owner wishes to expedite the process they may, at their expense, request in writing that an extraordinary general meeting be held to resolve the matter.

The exclusive use by-law must be presented at the general meeting as a proposed special resolution. For a special resolution to be passed, at least 75% of the entitled and attending lot owners must support the resolution. If the motion is specially resolved, or no more than 25% of the unit entitlements vote against the resolution, Bright & Duggan will make the necessary arrangements to have the by-law registered with the LPI (at the cost of the requesting lot owner). A by-law must be registered within six (6) months of the passing of the resolution, otherwise the decision is considered lapsed and the motion would need to be passed again at another general meeting.

Any lot owners who fail to follow the correct procedures run the risk of having orders made for the reinstatement of common property to its original form.

ALTERATIONS NOT AFFECTING COMMON PROPERTY

If the alterations do not impact common property it is still a requirement that any alteration to the lot must be brought to the attention of the owners corporation. The lot owner, in accordance with Section 152 of the Strata Schemes Management Act 2015 (NSW), must advise the owners corporation in writing giving 14 days notice of their intention to alter the lot. This provides the owners corporation with sufficient time to ask questions, or if necessary, make application for an order or interim order.

The strata committee may receive this advice, and if satisfied, advise the lot owner that they acknowledge receipt of the notice and have no objections to the proposed alterations.

REINSTATEMENT OF COMMON PROPERTY

Any lot owner who fails to follow the correct procedures runs the risk of having orders made for the reinstatement of common property to its original form at their expense.

Bright & Duggan disclaims any liability for negligence or otherwise in any way connected with this factsheet.

This factsheet does not represent an exhaustive list of all approvals which might be required. One should always consider whether any of the following additional approvals are required:

- Statutory approvals, including development consent/complying development certificate, construction certificate and occupation certificate from Council or a private certifier and plumbing approvals from a water services coordinator.
- Notification to the architect who designed the building, in some cases, where the architect's moral rights under the Copyright Act 1968 might otherwise be infringed.
- Community association approval, where the property forms part of a community title scheme.
- Building Management Committee ("BMC") approval, where the owners corporation is a member of a BMC administering properties of its members under a strata management statement.
